

Q) What do you understand by the strength of an acid? On which factor does the strength of an acid depend?

Ans- Strength of an acid is the degree of ionisation. If the degree of ionisation is greater than 30%, the acid is strong, less than 30%, the acid is weak. The strength of an acid depends upon the following factors:-

i) Degree of ionisation.

ii) On its pH value.